Dear [Editor's Name],

I am writing to formally request the retraction of the feature story titled "[Title of the Article]," published on [Publication Date], due to significant privacy violations affecting me and others involved in the narrative.

The article inaccurately portrayed sensitive personal information, which was included without proper consent. This has not only breached my privacy but has also caused emotional distress and reputational harm.

According to the ethical standards of journalism, it is crucial to respect individuals' privacy and obtain informed consent before publishing personal details. In light of these violations, I believe that retracting the article is essential to uphold the integrity of your publication.

I appreciate your attention to this matter and look forward to your prompt response to facilitate this retraction.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
