Dear [Editor's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to formally request a correction to the article titled "[Article Title]" published on [Publication Date], which appeared in [Section or Page Number].

Upon reviewing the article, I was concerned about its representation of [specific group or issue], as it presents a biased perspective that may mislead readers. Specifically, the following points stood out to me:

- [Briefly describe the first instance of bias]
- [Briefly describe the second instance of bias]
- [Optional: Briefly describe any additional instances]

These representations do not accurately reflect the reality of [insert details or context], and I believe correcting this information is essential not only for fairness but also for the integrity of your publication.

I kindly request that you review the content in question and consider publishing a correction or clarification that addresses these biases. Enclosed are resources that provide additional context and accurate information regarding this topic.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
