

Invitation to Collaborate on Investigative Journalism Resources

Dear [Recipient's Name],

We are excited to extend an invitation to you and your organization to participate in a collaborative effort aimed at enhancing investigative journalism through resource sharing.

As investigative journalists, we understand the importance of access to reliable information, tools, and networks. By pooling our resources, we can strengthen our capabilities and elevate our impact on communities and important issues.

We propose a meeting on [Date] at [Location/Platform] to discuss potential collaborations, share insights, and explore the resources available within our networks.

We believe your participation would be invaluable, and together we can forge a path for more robust investigative journalism.

Kindly RSVP by [RSVP Date] to confirm your attendance.

Thank you, and we look forward to the opportunity to work together.

Best regards,
