

Feedback on Your Recent Bid Submission

Dear [Bidder's Name],

Thank you for your submission for the [Project Name] project. We appreciate the time and effort you dedicated to preparing your proposal.

After careful consideration and evaluation against the project requirements and criteria, we regret to inform you that your bid was not selected for this project. While your proposal had many strengths, we ultimately chose another submission that more closely aligned with our project goals and budget.

We encourage you to apply for future opportunities, as we truly value your interest in working with us. We have provided some feedback below that may help you in refining your proposals:

- Consider providing more detailed information about your team's experience in similar projects.
- A clearer breakdown of costs would assist in understanding your pricing structure.
- Additional insights into your project timeline would help us gauge feasibility.

Thank you once again for your interest, and we wish you success in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
