Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to formally initiate a complaint regarding the persistent connectivity issues I have been experiencing with my residential telecom service, associated with account number [Insert Account Number].

For the past [Insert Duration], I have faced intermittent service interruptions, severely affecting my daily activities and work commitments. Despite my attempts to resolve this through your customer service, the issue remains unresolved.

I kindly request your prompt attention to this matter and an expedited resolution to restore my service to its expected performance level. Please inform me of the next steps in addressing this issue and any necessary actions on my part.

Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter. I look forward to your swift response.

Sincerely,
