Dear [Company Name],

I am writing to formally complain about misleading advertisements promoting [specific product or service] that your company has been circulating. I purchased [product/service] on [purchase date] based on these advertisements, which claimed [describe false or misleading claims].

However, upon using the product/service, I found that it did not meet the expectations set by your advertising. The claims made in your advertisements are not only misleading but have also resulted in a loss of trust in your brand.

I request that you address this issue by [explain what you want, e.g., a refund, corrections to advertising, etc.]. I believe it is crucial for businesses to maintain transparency and honesty in their advertising practices.

I look forward to your prompt response to this matter.

Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
