

Dear [Client's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. Thank you for considering me for your project. I am excited about the opportunity to work together.

To give you a better understanding of my skills and previous work, I have attached my portfolio that showcases my relevant projects and experiences. I believe these examples reflect my capabilities and style, which align with your project requirements.

Please take a moment to review the attached portfolio. I would love to discuss any questions or thoughts you might have during our interview.

Thank you once again for this opportunity. I look forward to speaking with you soon!

Best regards,
