Subject: Recruitment Strategy Analysis Summary

Introduction

This document summarizes the analysis of our current recruitment strategy and presents insights for improvement.

Current Recruitment Strategies

- Online Job Portals
- Social Media Outreach
- Employee Referral Programs

Analysis of Effectiveness

Our evaluation of the current strategies shows a 25% increase in candidate applications but a decline in quality. The following points detail our findings:

1. High application volume with low interview-to-offer ratio.
2. Social media engagement results in a younger applicant pool.
3. Employee referrals yield higher quality candidates.

Recommendations

To enhance our recruitment process, we recommend the following:

- Focus on targeted outreach campaigns using analytics.
- Increase investment in the employee referral program.
- Implement a more rigorous filtering process during initial application stages.

Conclusion

An updated and refined recruitment strategy will improve candidate quality and retention rates. Further discussion is encouraged to implement these recommendations.
