Dear [Educator's/Administrator's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to formally appeal for the inclusion of ethnic studies in our school's curriculum. As an advocate for diversity and inclusion, I believe that a curriculum that reflects the varied cultural backgrounds of our students is essential for fostering understanding and respect among all individuals.

Ethnic studies courses provide students with critical insights into the histories, contributions, and challenges faced by different ethnic groups. Such an education equips students with a broader perspective, enriching their learning experience and preparing them for a diverse world.

Many schools across the nation have successfully integrated ethnic studies into their curricula, yielding positive outcomes such as increased student engagement, improved academic performance, and enhanced civic participation. I urge you to consider the benefits that our students would gain from a similar initiative.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this important matter. I am eager to discuss this further and explore potential avenues for implementation. Together, we can create a more inclusive educational environment that reflects the vibrant diversity of our student body.

Sincerely,
