Dear [Recipient's Name],

I am writing to formally appeal my recent termination from [Company's Name] on [Date of Termination]. I believe that my termination constitutes a wrongful termination and a breach of the employment contract that was in effect at the time.

According to the terms outlined in my employment contract, which was signed on [Contract Date], the grounds for termination are specifically listed as [Grounds for Termination]. I maintain that my actions on [date of incident leading to termination] did not violate any of the agreed-upon terms, and therefore, I believe my termination was unwarranted.

Furthermore, I would like to highlight [specific incidents or evidence that support your claim]. This evidence supports my position that the termination was not only unjust but also contrary to the policies articulated in our employee handbook.

Given these facts, I request a thorough review of my case and an opportunity to present my side of the story in a meeting. I am confident that upon review, you will find sufficient grounds to reconsider the termination decision.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
