Dear [Employer's Name],

I am writing to express my interest in the internship position at [Company/Organization Name] as advertised on [where you found the internship]. As a conservation science student at [Your University], I am eager to apply my knowledge and skills to contribute to [specific goals/projects of the organization].

During my studies, I have gained a solid foundation in ecological principles, biodiversity conservation, and field research methodologies. My recent project on [briefly describe project or experience] has equipped me with valuable hands-on experience that I believe would be beneficial in your team.

I am particularly drawn to [specific aspect of the organization or its projects], and I am excited about the possibility of fostering conservation efforts through practical involvement. I am a motivated learner, able to work both independently and as part of a team, and I am eager to bring my passion for conservation to [Company/Organization Name].

I have attached my resume for your review. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasms align with the goals of your organization. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
