Request for Feedback on Pilot Product Performance

Dear [Client's Name],

We hope this message finds you well. As you are aware, we recently launched the pilot phase of our new product, [Product Name], and your involvement has been invaluable.

To ensure we are meeting your needs and expectations, we kindly request your feedback on the performance of [Product Name]. Your insights will help us refine the product further before the official release.

Please take a moment to answer the following questions:

- How has your experience been with the product?
- What features do you find most beneficial?
- Are there any areas for improvement?
- Would you recommend this product to others? Why or why not?

We value your opinion and appreciate your time in helping us enhance our offerings. Please reply by [specific date] so we can take your comments into consideration.

Thank you for your support and collaboration.

Sincerely,
