Dear [Librarian/Committee Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to provide feedback on the recent efforts regarding our library's collection development. I appreciate the work done to enhance our resources and would like to share my observations and suggestions.

What Works Well

- Wide selection of contemporary fiction and non-fiction titles.
- Increased focus on diverse authors and voices.
- Accessibility of digital resources.

Suggestions for Improvement

- Consider expanding the collection of STEM-related materials for younger audiences.
- Increase the range of international literature available.
- Provide more resources in [specific language/subject].

Thank you for considering my feedback. I believe these developments will greatly benefit our community and enrich our library's collection. I look forward to discussing this further.

Best regards,
