Dear Grant Committee,

I am writing to apply for funding to support my science fair project titled "Project Title," which aims to explore brief description of the project and its objectives. As a passionate student in your field of study, I believe this project will not only enhance my understanding but also contribute to the scientific community by impact or relevance of the project.

To carry out this project, I will require funding for list specific materials, equipment, or resources needed. The estimated budget for the project is total amount needed. I have attached a detailed budget breakdown along with my project proposal for your review.

I am particularly excited about this project because personal motivation or relevance to your studies. With your support, I am confident that I can bring my vision to fruition and potentially spark interest in this area of science among my peers.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my project in further detail and am hopeful for your generous support.

Sincerely,
