Dear [Recipient's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to discuss the ongoing situation regarding the outstanding debt obligations owed by [Your Country/Organization] to [Recipient's Organization] that were incurred during [Specify Time Period/Project].

As you are aware, the current socio-economic conditions have rendered it challenging for us to meet our repayment obligations under the original terms. [Briefly outline any relevant economic challenges, such as recession, natural disaster, etc.]. We remain committed to fulfilling our financial responsibilities and are seeking to explore potential avenues for restructuring our debt.

We propose to engage in negotiations to modify the existing terms, with the aim of establishing a mutually beneficial agreement that accommodates the current financial realities while preserving our relationship. We believe that a collaborative approach can lead to sustainable solutions.

We would appreciate the opportunity to discuss this matter further. Please let us know your availability for a meeting or a conference call at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for your consideration, and we look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,
