

Invitation to Discuss Your Feedback

Dear [Reviewer's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. Thank you for taking the time to provide your feedback regarding [specific topic or document]. I genuinely appreciate your insights and understand that your critique may have raised some concerns.

I would like to invite you to meet in person to discuss your feedback further. I believe an in-depth conversation could help clarify any misunderstandings and assist us in making the necessary improvements.

Could we schedule a meeting at your convenience? I am flexible with timing and can meet at a location that works best for you.

Thank you for considering this invitation. I look forward to your response.

Best regards,
