

Follow-Up on Manuscript Submission

Dear [Agent's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to follow up on my previously submitted manuscript, titled "[Manuscript Title]", which I sent on [Submission Date]. I appreciate your consideration and wanted to see if you had any updates regarding my submission.

After reflecting on your initial feedback, I have made several revisions to enhance the narrative flow and character development. I believe these changes have significantly strengthened the manuscript, and I would be grateful for any further insights you might have.

If you are still interested, I would be more than happy to resend the revised version for your review. Thank you for your time and support!

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
