

Dear [Book Club Organizer's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to inform you that I must unfortunately withdraw my participation from the book club due to [brief reason, e.g., personal commitments, scheduling conflicts, etc.].

I have truly enjoyed the discussions and the community of fellow book lovers, and it is with a heavy heart that I make this decision. I appreciate all the hard work you put into organizing our meetings and selecting the engaging books we've read.

Thank you for the wonderful experiences and camaraderie. I hope to rejoin the club in the future once my schedule allows.

Best regards,
