Dear [Interviewee's Name],

I am writing to propose an interview for our upcoming documentary titled "[Documentary Title]," which aims to explore [briefly explain the documentary's theme]. We believe that your insights and expertise on [specific topic] would greatly enhance the narrative.

The interview would take approximately [duration] and can be scheduled at your convenience. We can conduct it [mention location options: in-person, virtually, etc.]. Your participation would add significant value to our project and reach a broader audience interested in [relevant audience].

Thank you for considering this opportunity. We would be honored to feature you in our documentary. Please let us know your availability, and feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
