- Understand Academic Integrity: Familiarize yourself with your institution's policies on academic integrity and the consequences of violations.
- Cite Sources Properly: Always provide proper citations for any work that is not your own, following the required citation style.
- Avoid Plagiarism: Use plagiarism detection tools to check your work before submission to ensure originality.
- Collaborate Honestly: When working in groups, ensure all contributions are fairly credited and avoid sharing work unless permitted.
- Seek Help When Needed: Utilize resources such as writing centers or academic advisors if you are unsure about your work's integrity.
- Act Ethically: Take responsibility for your actions and encourage peers to adhere to academic honesty.

By adopting these practices, we can maintain an environment of trust and respect in our academic community. Let us all commit to upholding these standards in every aspect of our work.
