Dear [Curator's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to formally request an extension for the ongoing exhibition "Art Through the Ages," currently showcased at [Museum Name]. Following recent visitor feedback, it has become apparent that the exhibition has significantly resonated with our audience, with many expressing a desire to spend more time engaging with the artworks.

In our visitor survey, over 80% of attendees indicated that they would like to see the exhibition available for a longer duration to fully appreciate the diverse pieces on display. Many have also commented on the enriching experience that this exhibition offers, not just visually but educationally as well.

Given this positive response, I believe extending the exhibition would not only enhance our visitors' experience but also contribute to the museum's mission of promoting art and culture within our community.

Therefore, I kindly request that you consider extending the exhibition for an additional [number of weeks/months]. I am confident this extension will accommodate the interest expressed by our visitors and drive further attendance.

Thank you for considering this appeal. I look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,
