

Manuscript Rejection Feedback

Dear [Author's Name],

Thank you for submitting your manuscript titled "[Title of Manuscript]" to [Journal Name]. We appreciate the opportunity to review your work.

After careful consideration, we regret to inform you that we cannot accept your manuscript for publication. While your research addresses an important topic, we believe that there are several areas that require significant improvement before it can meet the journal's standards.

Detailed Critique

- Methodology: The research design lacks clarity, and the sample size may not be adequate to support the conclusions drawn.
- Literature Review: There are several key references that are missing, which would provide a more comprehensive background.
- Data Analysis: The statistical methods employed could be improved; consider utilizing more robust analyses.
- Discussion: The implications of your findings need a deeper exploration and connection to existing literature.
- Clarity and Structure: Some sections of the manuscript require reorganization for better flow and comprehension.

We encourage you to address these issues and consider submitting your work to another journal or resubmitting to us once the necessary revisions have been made. Thank you again for your submission, and we wish you the best in your future research endeavors.

Sincerely,
