

Request for Article Revision: Additional Data Inclusion

Dear [Editor's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to formally request a revision of my article titled "[Article Title]", which was submitted on [Submission Date]. After reviewing the feedback from the reviewers, I realized that there are additional data points that could significantly enhance the manuscript.

The specific data I wish to include pertains to [briefly describe the additional data]. I believe that including this information will provide a more comprehensive understanding of [mention the main topic or argument of the article].

Please let me know if you would be open to this revision. I am happy to work within your timeline and any requirements you may have for resubmission.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
[Your Affiliation]
[Your Contact Information]