

Feedback Request: Publication Conflicts

Dear [Recipient's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am reaching out to seek your feedback regarding potential conflicts of interest that may arise in the context of my recent publication titled "[Publication Title]."

As I strive to maintain transparency and ethical standards, I would appreciate your insights on the following:

- Any existing relationships or collaborations that may present a conflict.
- Your perspective on the potential impact of my research on our field.
- Recommendations for addressing these issues should they arise.

Your expertise and advice are invaluable to me, and I would be grateful for any thoughts you could share by [specific date]. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
