

Feedback on Your Research Hypothesis

Dear [Recipient's Name],

Thank you for sharing your research hypothesis titled "[Title of the Research]". After reviewing your hypothesis, I would like to provide you with some constructive feedback:

Strengths:

- Your hypothesis is clear and concise.
- The relevance to current literature is well-articulated.
- It addresses an important research gap.

Areas for Improvement:

- Consider refining your variables for better specificity.
- It would be beneficial to include more context regarding your research population.
- Clarify the expected outcomes to strengthen your argument.

Overall, your hypothesis has great potential, and I look forward to seeing how you develop your research further. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions or need additional guidance.

Best regards,
