Dear [Recipient Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to suggest a retitling for the manuscript titled "[Original Manuscript Title]" that was submitted on [Submission Date]. Upon further reflection, I believe that a more specific title could better convey the essence of the research presented.

After considering the key findings and focus of the study, I propose the following retitling:

Suggested Title: "[Proposed Manuscript Title]"

This title aims to clearly reflect the main objective and results of the work, which I believe will enhance its appeal and comprehension to the audience.

Thank you for considering this suggestion. I look forward to your thoughts on this matter.

Sincerely,
