

Dear [Friend's Name],

I hope this message finds you well! I recently heard about the fun outing you have planned for [date or event]. I think it sounds like a great time, and I would love to join you.

If there's still room, I would be thrilled to be part of the adventure. Please let me know if you think it would work or if there's anything I can bring along.

Looking forward to your response!

Best,
