

Dear [Best Friend's Name],

I hope this message finds you well! As my wedding date approaches, I can't help but think about all the exciting preparations ahead of us.

Firstly, I want to discuss the wedding venue options. I recently toured a beautiful place that I think could be perfect. Would you be free to join me next week for another visit?

Also, I'd love your input on the theme and colors. I want to keep everything fun and vibrant, and I know you have a great sense of style which would be so helpful!

Lastly, I can't forget about the bridal party outfits. I have a few ideas in mind and would love to sit down and brainstorm with you.

Let me know when you're available for a catch-up. Your support means the world to me!

Much love,

[Your Name]
