

Dear Beloved Grandchild,

As we sit down to write this letter, our hearts are heavy with sorrow, yet filled with love for you. In moments of sadness, it is important to hold onto the cherished memories that unite our family.

We have seen the seasons change and life unfold in ways we could never have imagined. Through every storm, we have learned that resilience is born from love and connection. Remember, dear one, that it is okay to grieve, but also important to celebrate the life we had together.

Always carry with you the wisdom that pain is a part of life, but it also makes the joyous moments even sweeter. Our love for you transcends time and space; it remains a constant source of comfort and strength.

Whenever you feel lost in your sorrow, know that we are with you in spirit. Take time to heal, to look within, and to find the beauty in every day, no matter how small. We are proud of the person you are becoming, and we encourage you to embrace life with open arms.

With all our love and warmth,

Grandma and Grandpa
