Dear [Partner's Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. It is with a heavy heart that I write to formally announce the termination of our partnership, effective immediately. After much reflection and consideration, we have reached a point of irreconcilable differences that have made it impossible for us to continue our collaboration.

We have shared many accomplishments and challenges throughout our time together, and I will always appreciate the effort and commitment you have shown. However, it has become clear that our visions for the future are no longer aligned.

Please consider this letter as my official notice, as outlined in our partnership agreement. I believe it is in both of our best interests to move forward separately.

I wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
