

Happy Anniversary!

Dear [Spouse's Name],

Another year has passed, and I must say, our love has aged like fine wine... or maybe more like a stinky cheese! Either way, I wouldn't trade it for anything.

Remember when we thought we could get through life without arguing? Those were some fun conversations we had before reality hit like a brick wall!

Thank you for putting up with my habits, like my obsession with leaving the fridge door open for too long and my inability to put my socks in the laundry basket. You really deserve a medal--or at least a really nice cake!

Here's to many more years of laughter, love, and me leaving the toilet seat up!

Forever your partner in this crazy journey,

[Your Name]