Dear [Partner's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to inform you about proposed updates to our cohabitation agreement. Following recent discussions, I believe it is essential to revisit certain provisions to better reflect our current situation and mutual understanding.

Proposed Updates:

- Section 1: Financial Contributions - Adjusting the percentage contributions to living expenses based on income changes.
- Section 2: Property Ownership - Clarifying joint versus individual ownership of assets acquired during our cohabitation.
- Section 3: Termination Clause - Revising the notice period for dissolution of the agreement to provide a smoother transition.

I believe these revisions will help us maintain a clear and fair understanding of our responsibilities and expectations. I would like to discuss these updates with you at your earliest convenience to ensure we are both on the same page.

Thank you for considering these changes. I look forward to hearing your thoughts.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
