

Dear Valued Shareholders,

We hope this message finds you well. As we move forward with the planned merger between [Company A] and [Company B], we want to take a moment to reassure you of our commitment to ensuring the effectiveness and success of this significant transition.

We understand that mergers can bring about uncertainties and potential risks. However, we have undertaken a thorough analysis and comprehensive planning to mitigate these risks and maximize the potential benefits for our shareholders and stakeholders alike. Our experienced management team is dedicated to fostering a smooth integration process, which will enhance our operational efficiencies and competitive position in the market.

Moreover, our strategic objectives remain focused on driving long-term value creation. We believe that the combined strengths of both companies will lead to innovative solutions, expanded market reach, and improved financial performance. Your trust in us as we navigate this journey is invaluable, and we are committed to maintaining open and transparent communication throughout the merger process.

Thank you for your continued support and confidence in [Company A]. We look forward to sharing our progress and the positive impact of this merger on our business and shareholders.

Sincerely,
