Subject: Response to Defamation Claim

Dear [Recipient's Name],

I am writing in response to the defamation lawsuit you have filed against me, dated [Insert Date of Lawsuit]. I take these allegations very seriously, and I would like to address them directly.

First and foremost, I deny the claims made in your lawsuit. The statements in question were made with no intention to harm your reputation and were based on facts that were both true and substantiated. I believe this misunderstanding stems from the interpretation of my statements, which were made in good faith.

As you know, freedom of speech is a fundamental right, and it is essential to have open and honest discussions about personal disputes. I encourage us to engage in a constructive dialogue to resolve this matter amicably rather than pursue costly litigation.

I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss this further and hopefully come to a mutual agreement. Please feel free to reach me at your earliest convenience.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
