Dear [Patient Name],

We are reaching out to inform you about an important health assessment that is recommended for elderly patients, particularly those who may be at risk for diabetes. Early detection can lead to better management and improved health outcomes.

What is Diabetes Risk Assessment?

This assessment will involve evaluating your medical history, including any risk factors such as family history, lifestyle choices, and existing medical conditions.

Why is it Important?

Understanding your risk for diabetes can empower you to make informed decisions about your health and enable us to provide you with appropriate support.
