Dear [Recipient's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to provide feedback on the university's inclusion strategies that have been implemented this academic year.

Firstly, I would like to commend the initiatives that promote diversity within our student body. The outreach programs targeting underrepresented communities have made a significant impact, and I have noticed a more diverse range of participants in our recent events.

However, I believe there are areas where improvement is needed. For instance, while the mentoring programs are beneficial, there seems to be a lack of structured follow-up for participants. Adding a regular check-in system could enhance the effectiveness of these programs.

Furthermore, increasing the visibility of support services for students with disabilities could foster a more inclusive atmosphere. Utilizing our online platforms to highlight these resources would be advantageous.

Thank you for considering my feedback. I am looking forward to seeing how these strategies evolve and contribute to a more inclusive university environment.

Sincerely,
