

Call for Speakers for the Annual Developer Forum

Dear [Recipient Name],

We are excited to announce the upcoming Annual Developer Forum, scheduled for [date] at [location]. This event aims to bring together leading developers and technology enthusiasts to share knowledge, innovations, and trends in the tech community.

We are currently seeking speakers who are passionate about technology and have insightful topics to share with our audience. If you have expertise in areas such as AI, cloud computing, web development, or any emerging technology, we would love to hear from you.

To submit your proposal, please provide:

- Your name and contact information
- A brief bio
- Proposed topic and description
- Duration of the presentation

Please submit your proposal by [submission deadline] to [email address]. Selected speakers will receive complimentary event passes and recognition in our event materials.

We look forward to your contributions and hope to see you at the forum!

Best regards,

[Your Name]

[Your Title]

[Your Organization]

[Contact Information]