

To My Dearest Friends

As I prepare to leave you all behind (don't worry, I'll send postcards from my couch), I dedicate this book to the wonderful souls who have made my time here an unforgettable adventure. May your coffee be strong, your workload light, and your meetings short.

To [Name], who always said there's no such thing as too much cake--this is your fault. To [Name], who introduced me to the magic of spontaneous karaoke nights--you're the reason my neighbors hate me. And to [Name], my partner in crime, who made work feel like recess--thank you for keeping my spirits high and my snacks plentiful.

As you flip through these pages, remember me fondly (or with a laugh) and occasionally shout my name into the void, just to keep me on my toes. Cheers to all the inside jokes, the unexpected dance parties, and the wild coffee runs that fueled our days.

Here's to new beginnings, endless possibilities, and hopefully not too many awkward encounters on Zoom! I'll miss you all more than I miss sleep on Monday mornings.

Much love and laughter,

[Your Name]
